TRIBAL COURT RULES

Rule 18A. Attorney Representation

1. A party may be represented before the Court by any person who is a member in good standing of the bar of any federal or state court and who has been admitted to practice before the Reno-Sparks Indian Colony Tribal Court, at his or her own cost.
2. An attorney who seeks admission to practice before this Court shall file a petition for admission setting forth his or her bar membership and sign a certification that the applicant has read the Reno-Sparks Indian Colony Tribal Law and Order Code and the Rules of Court, is familiar with them and will uphold and apply them in practice before the Court. The application shall be accompanied by an admission fee to be set by the Court, which shall be paid annually in order to retain good standing to practice before the Court. The Clerk of Court shall maintain a list of individuals who have been admitted to practice. The list shall be updated annually by January 31 of each year.

Rule 18B. Representation by a Private Court Advocate at Own Cost

1. A party may be represented before the Court by a private Tribal Court Advocate, at his or her own cost.
2. A Tribal Court Advocate may be a person over the age of eighteen years who submits a written certificate that he or she has read the Reno-Sparks Indian Colony Tribal Law and Order Code and the Rules of Court, is familiar with them and will uphold and apply them in practice before the Court. The application shall be accompanied by an admission fee to be set by the Court, which shall be paid annually in order to retain good standing to practice before the Court. The Clerk of Court shall maintain a list of individuals who have been admitted to practice. The list shall be updated annually by January 31 of each year.
