M-25-14

MEMORANDUM FOR HEADS OF EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENTS AND AGENCIES

FROM: Matthew J. Vaeth, Acting Director, Office of Management and Budget

SUBJECT: Rescission of M-25-13

OMB Memorandum M-25-13 is rescinded. If you have questions about implementing the President's Executive Orders, please contact your agency General Counsel.

(Reno, NV—January 29, 2025) -
RSIC Tribal Members and Community Members,

This letter article is to provide an update regarding the new U.S. Administration's memorandum from the Office of Management and Budget that ordered a spending freeze on federal assistance on January 28th. Which sent all governments and organizations, especially our tribal governments, into chaos to figure out how programs will be affected.

The new U.S. Administration ordered the spending freeze to conduct a comprehensive analysis of whether the spending aligns with President Donald Trump's recent executive orders, such as, reevaluating foreign aid spending, rolling back protections for transgender individuals, ending diversity, equity and inclusion (DEI) program, the immigration crackdown and protecting the American People against invasion.

Late yesterday afternoon, Federal Judge Loren L. AliKhan for the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia put a temporary pause on the order to consider arguments from the U.S. Government and the plaintiffs in the court case who filed a restraining order against the government to stop the funding freeze. The court case hearing was scheduled for Monday, February 3rd. The plaintiffs include state attorney generals; including Nevada's Attorney General, Aaron Ford; non-profits, public health organizations and small businesses.

Fortunately today, January 29th, we received a memo from the Acting Director of the Office of Management and Budget Matthew Vaeth stating the "federal spending freeze directive is rescinded until further notice".

Vaeth also said in a CBS News interview, "The executive orders

Office of the Chairman

Daryl D. Gardipe

Again, I'd like to thank RSIC Tribal Members, Community Members, RSIC Tribal Council, our departments and employees for making 2024 a successful year.

As we make provisions for the Trump administration and the incursion of Executive Orders, I want to ensure our Reno-Sparks Indian Colony community the Tribal Council and I are closely monitoring and strategizing with the aid of our state and federal lobbyists, Strategies 360 and George Waters. There is a lot of uncertainty in how Trump's administration will engage tribal nations during the next four years. Nonetheless, we will be organizing to build or strengthen alliances and maintain the progress of Indian Country. Native peoples have always worked to protect our ancestral lands and waters.

RSIC has dependable political relationships supporting the protection of our rights and sovereignty. For many years, RSIC has worked diligently to gain political allies from both Republican and Democrat representatives. We will continue to foster and build political relationships to leverage RSIC's political agenda.

Additionally, the Tribal Council and I advise all Tribal Members to carry your tribal ID or Certificate of Indian Blood (CIB) with you in light of the Trump Administration immigration sweep. There have been reports of tribal members across the nation who have been questioned about their citizenship and detained by ICE. If you need to get an updated Tribal ID, please contact our Enrollment Office at 775-785-1306.

Also, make sure to carry your state identification card or driver's license.

Now for my update to the community on what Tribal Council and I have been working on for the month of January.

Community Safety is Our #1 Priority: Tribal Council is intensely looking into all criminal matters to seek justice for all victims of crimes. We can't ignore the issues that happen in and around the colony.

In regards to the shooting on December 18th, two suspects are incarcerated. However, the investigation is on-going.

I can't express this enough. If you witness a crime, please document what you saw to the proper authorities. This is a critical piece needed for justice.

Another Priority for 2025 is Economic Development: Tribal Council and I are tactically looking into new business ideas that will enhance and benefit RSIC to include our current land base and existing businesses.

Pete Sferrazza, RSIC Prosecutor retired on January 3rd— Pete formerly served as the Mayor of Reno, Director of Nevada Indian Legal Services, Tribal Judge, Reno Municipal Court Judge, former Washoe County Commissioner and 3x Reno Justice of the Peace and was elected the President of the American Judges Association, the largest judicial organization in North America. Pete enjoyed serving RSIC Community any chance he got and we were lucky to have him as our prosecutor. We thank him for his service to Reno-Sparks Indian Colony.

As a contingency plan, we hired Lori Jensen as the RSIC Prosecutor prior to Pete retiring. Welcome aboard Lori.

RSIC Allocated all ARPA

Funds—With a deadline of December 31st, RSIC worked hard and successfully allocated the rest of the APRA funds for much needed projects. I appreciate all departments who helped with the task and keeping us organized.

Housing Project moving forward: . We finally selected a contractor to start the Hungry Valley 25-lot Infrastructure Project (22 homes + 3 Lots). We happily announce Frank Lepori Construction Inc. as the contractor which will soon begin after all the official approvals and logistics are smoothed out.

Demolition of 98 Colony Road—Starting on February 10th, Advanced Installation will be starting the asbestos abatement on 98 Colony Road prior to demolition. This will take about 4 weeks. Once the abatement is finished, Q&D Construction will start the next phase of the actual demolition of the building. Please be cautious and avoid work area. The contractors will provide traffic control, temporary fencing and other safety mitigations. We will keep you informed as necessary.

Networking & Politics—RSIC hosted the 1st Quarterly Tribal Consultation meeting with NV Dept. of Health & Human Service Programs at the Tribal Health Center. We are making waves in the Tribal Health Care industry and increasing collaboration with our local governments and agencies.

On January 8th, RSIC met with BIA Police-Office of Justice Services about funding. The detention monies is an ongoing issue. We have yet to figure out a solution that everyone is pleased with. I'll keep you informed as much as possible.

On January 13th, I attended the ITCN Board Meeting. A lot is happening for all Nevada Tribes. ITCN plans to hold it's 51st Convention on July 14th-18th.

On January 15th, I met with Assemblywoman Cecelia Gonzales and Secretary of State Cisco Aguilar to discuss a Legislation Bill to allow any Nevada Reservation Resident to vote in City Elections. Meaning, this bill will allow RSIC Residents the right to vote in City of Reno and City of Sparks Elections.

Another Bill to look forward to, which we've already mentioned, is the State Medicaid Amendment Plan to allow Nevada Tribal Clinics to bill for all pharmacy encounters.

Washoe County School District selected James Phoenix, Pyramid Lake Paiute Tribal Member, as the new School Board Member. Congratulations James Phoenix! We know you will serve the entire community well while advocating for our tribal communities and tribal student needs.

Tri-Basin Cultural Committee and Law & Order Committee—I'm please to announce we swore-in 2 new members to the TBCC: Janice Stump and Trisha Calabaza. And 2 new member to the Law & Order Committee, Verna Nuno and Janice Sanchez. Thank you for dedicating your valuable time to serve our community on these important committees.

The New Years Eve Sobriety Powwow & NYE Open Games—

We hosted another successful powwow in conjunction with Open Hand Games organized by Winston Sam. There were many people who attended both events. It was also great to see our community encourage and support sobriety. The Sobriety Chip giveaway was highlight. Thank you RSIC Powwow Committee, Tribal Health Center, Winston Sam and volunteers for organizing events that people look forward to each year.

Reminder of RSIC Closures:

On February 17th, RSIC Admin Offices and Reno-Sparks Tribal Health Center will be CLOSED for Presidents Day.

Medical Needs: Please pre-plan care especially your pharmacy needs.

For upcoming events, please be visit our website and view our event calendar at www.rsic.org. Stay informed by RSIC's newsletter, website and RSIC's social media.

Thank you and I hope you have a great February.

TMWA says these people are not affiliated with their agency, and that they would never come to your home unannounced and ask to test the water.

In the event they need to take a sample from a home, it is their practice to collect it from an outdoor faucet.

Legitimate TMWA employees will have proper ID and drive cars clearly marked with the TMWA logo.

cautious and report any suspicious activity or people to local law enforcement as well as TMWA's customer service team issued by President Trump on funding reviews remain in full force and effect and will be rigorously implemented by all agencies and departments. This action should effectively end the court case and allow the government to focus on enforcing the President's order on controlling federal funding."

We recognize the immense impact that this order had for our tribal community. All tribal nations rely on federal funding to address essential needs including public safety, healthcare, education, housing, social services, and the basic needs of our most vulnerable citizens.

As we make provisions for the Trump administration and the incursion of Executive Orders, the Tribal Council and I are closely monitoring and strategizing with the aid of our federal lobbyist George Waters, who's in Washington D.C., and our state lobbyist, Strategies 360. Our main concern is the government trust responsibility to tribal nations.

At this moment, Reno-Sparks Indian Colony is organizing to build and strengthen alliances to maintain the progress of Indian Country. We're committed to the protection of our tribal sovereignty and we will be writing to and meeting with our Congressional leaders; both Republican and Democrat; to ask them to take action and make decisions in support to continue to fulfill the United States treaty & trust obligations to Reno-Sparks Indian Colony and all tribal nations.

The RSIC Finance Office is compiling a financial report for Tribal Council to assess exactly what programs will be affected if the federal funding freeze is reinstated. The Tribal Council and I are also working on a contingency plan; for both short-term and long-term; to provide continued funding for all RSIC tribal programs and services for as long as possible.

Additionally, in light of the Trump Administration's immigration sweep, we advise all Tribal Members to carry your tribal ID or Certificate of Indian Blood (CIB); plus your state identification card or driver's license; with you at all times. There have been a couple reports of tribal members across the nation who have been questioned about their U.S. citizenship and some have been detained by ICE. If you need to get an updated tribal ID, please contact our Enrollment Office at 775-785-1306.

Message from Reno-Sparks Tribal Health Center: The Reno Sparks Tribal Health Center relies on federal funding to address essential healthcare needs for the Reno Sparks Indian Colony and extended Urban Indian patient population. Rest assured, that the RSTHC is prepared and will continue to provide essential health services without interruption. Through the past two years the clinic has strengthened its operations and sustainability models to ensure we are prepared to continue our mission as our main priority.

While the clinic's grant funding was impacted, the Tribal Council and clinic leadership team has implemented measures to keep our grant funded staffing and grant deliverables intact. The clinic has implemented planning measures internally to ensure critical and essential healthcare will not be interrupted.

We understand that patients may have also experienced the temporary shutdown of the Nevada Medicaid portal and/or access to care. We have been advised that all 50 State Medicaid Portals have been reopened at this time. We appreciate the advocacy of Governor Lombardo to the White House on the critical needs of our Medicaid beneficiaries and the planning effort of the State of Nevada to address the critical issues.

While future Executive Orders and impacts may be unknown at this time, it is important that all our members and extended patients understand that we are in direct contact with our Tribal Liaisons with the Nevada Division of Health Care Financing and Policy, otherwise known as Nevada Medicaid. In addition, RSTHC continues to network with our colleagues at the National Indian Health Board and Indian Health Services Phoenix Area Office.

Let me assure you, the Tribal Council and I will be advocating in the best interest of our tribal members and community.

We understand the uncertainty these changes may cause. RSIC Tribal Council and I want you to know we are exploring every avenue to address this situation effectively. We will provide updates and information as it becomes available. Let's work together to create solutions.

FACTS ABOUT MACULAR DEGENERATION

If you have been diagnosed with Age-related Macular Degeneration (commonly referred to as macular degeneration or AMD), you are not alone. AMD is the leading cause of severe vision loss in adults over 50.

WHAT IS AMD?

Age-related Macular Degeneration is a progressive eye condition that damages the macula, the light sensitive part of the retina responsible for central vision. The exact cause of AMD is not known. Age is the greatest risk factor for developing AMD.

AMD SIGNS AND SYMPTOMS

- Blurriness
- Distortion of images
- Straight lines look wavy or crooked
- Loss of clear color vision
- Potential loss of central vision

YOUR EYES

How a scene might look to a person without AMD

How a scene might look to a person with advanced AMD

TYPES OF AMD AND TREATMENT OPTIONS

There are two forms of AMD: dry and wet.

About 90% of people diagnosed with AMD have the dry form, which results from the aging and thinning of macular tissues, drusen (waste products) formation, or a combination of the two processes. There is no known treatment for dry AMD. However, there may be a link between nutrition and the progression of dry AMD.

The less common, but more severe kind, is wet AMD. This means there is bleeding and fluid leakage. This form may respond to medications injected into the eye if diagnosed and treated early. Central vision that is lost to AMD cannot be restored. Low vision devices can be used to maximize existing vision. There are several lifestyle modifications that can be made to delay progression no matter which form of AMD you may have

REDUCING YOUR AMD RISK

IF YOU OR SOMEONE YOU KNOW HAS BEEN DIAGNOSED WITH AMD, HERE ARE SOME THINGS YOU CAN START DOING TODAY TO HELP YOU REDUCE YOUR RISK OF PROGRESSION:

-  IF YOU SMOKE, QUIT - SMOKING CAN HARM YOUR EYES, JUST LIKE IT CAN HARM YOUR BODY. CIGARETTE SMOKE MAY DAMAGE THE RETINA AND CAN REDUCE BLOOD FLOW IN EYE TISSUE, POTENTIALLY LEADING TO AMD AND INCREASING THE RISK OF PROGRESSION
-  SEE YOUR EYE CARE PROFESSIONAL REGULARLY - CHANGES IN EYE HEALTH MAY OCCUR WITHOUT NOTICE. ONLY AN EYE CARE PROFESSIONAL CAN DETECT THESE CHANGES SO IT IS IMPORTANT TO KEEP ALL OF YOUR SCHEDULED EYE APPOINTMENTS. EARLY DETECTION INCREASES THE TREATMENT OPTIONS AVAILABLE TO YOU.
-  EAT HEALTHY - A HIGH FAT DIET CAN LEAD TO FATTY PLAQUE DEPOSITS IN THE EYE, INCREASING THE RISK OF AMD. YOU MIGHT BE ABLE TO SLOW PROGRESSION OF AMD BY EATING A BALANCED DIET RICH WITH FRUITS, GREEN LEAFY VEGETABLES, AND HEALTHY FATS.
-  CONTROL YOUR WEIGHT, CHOLESTEROL, AND BLOOD PRESSURE - OBESITY, HIGH LEVELS OF CHOLESTEROL, AND HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE MAY CONTRIBUTE TO THE DEVELOPMENT OF ADVANCED AMD.
-  PROTECT YOUR EYES WHEN OUTSIDE - OVEREXPOSURE TO THE SUN'S HARMFUL ULTRAVIOLET (UV) RAYS CAN SPEED UP PROGRESSION OF AMD. CONSIDER WEARING SUNGLASSES WITH BOTH UV-A AND UV-B PROTECTION.
-  SELF-MONITOR YOUR VISION - IN BETWEEN REGULAR VISITS WITH YOUR EYE DOCTOR, YOU CAN MONITOR YOUR VISION AT HOME USING AN AMSLER GRID. CONTACT YOUR DOCTOR IF YOU NOTICE ANY CHANGES IN YOUR VISION.
-  CONSIDER TAKING AN EYE VITAMIN (PRESERVATION AREDS 2 FORMULA) - IT'S THE FIRST AND ONLY VITAMIN THAT CONTAINS THE EXACT NUTRIENT FORMULA NOW RECOMMENDED BY THE EXPERTS AT THE NATIONAL EYE INSTITUTE.

TO SCHEDULE AN APPOINTMENT:

ANNUAL EXAMS ARE TYPICALLY BOOKED OUT FOR 8 TO 12 WEEKS. PLEASE CONTACT OUR FRONT DESK FOR SCHEDULING AT 775-329-5162, EXT. 1979.

RSTHC Art Sculptures Cleaned and Restored

(Reno, NV—January 28, 2025) - The Water Jug and Eagle Tree art sculptures located at the Reno-Sparks Tribal Health Center (RSTHC) were cleaned about two weeks ago. Preservation Arts of Oakland, California was commissioned by RSTHC to complete the project. The Eagle Tree was cleaned and polished by hand by the Preservation Arts team. The Water Jug needed repair due to the firehose used as Tule reeds stretching; which caused the tan hose color to show; and materials becoming loose over time. The reeds were repainted and color-matched to the existing paint; restoring the Water Jug to its original glory. Preservation Arts is an art curator that works with public and private art galleries and governmental entities to clean and restore works of art. Jim Dolan of Belgrade, Montana was commissioned by RSIC in 2005 to create these two RSTHC sculptures and the three obelisks outside that light at night. The art pieces represents RSIC's vision for a strong community that promotes and encourages individual spiritual, physical and emotional health to foster a long, abundant, and prosperous life. The Water Jug not only represents water of life and healthy choices, but also the Creation Story of the Great Basin People. The Eagle Tree reminds us to pray, because the Eagle will help carry our prayers to Creator.

On January 2, 2025, Reno-Sparks Indian Colony Education staff packed the vehicles with kids and headed to Pyramid Lake to explore the museum. It was no ordinary visit. It was a scavenger hunt. Students and chaperons teamed up searching the various displays for artifacts that matched the pictures they were given. They had to identify each picture of an artifact by their Paiute (Numu) name. After completing that part of the exercise, they wandered the displays looking for answers to cultural and historical questions on the three tribes, the Paiute, the Shoshone and the Washoe. The fun of the hunt engaged everyone. The group left, having learned a bit more of the Paiute history, its culture and practiced the Paiute Language. The event ended with a stop for pizza!

Our sincere thanks to the Pyramid Lake Museum's Director, Billy Jean Guerrero for being our guide, for Maureen Williams for coordinating the event, for UNITY staff support and all the education chaperons.

February is Teen Dating Violence Awareness

Teen Dating Violence Awareness Month (TDVAM) is observed every February, and it's a time to raise awareness about the prevalence of dating violence among Native American youth. This month focuses on educating communities about types of abuse, offering resources, and promoting healthy relationships. Native American youth often face unique challenges that can make teens more vulnerable to violence, including historical trauma, intergenerational cycles of abuse and lack of resources for support.

What is Teen Dating Violence (TDV) :

- ✦ TDV is a type of intimate partner violence that impacts millions of young people in the US.
- ✦ TDV can take place in person or online.
- ✦ TDV can be physical, sexual, psychological, stalking, and digital abuse

- ✦ Physical Abuse: Hitting, kicking or using force to hurt a partner
- ✦ Sexual Abuse: Forcing/ Attempting to force partner to partake in a sexual act when a partner does not or cannot give consent.
- ✦ Psychological Abuse: Verbal and or nonverbal communication used to harm a partner mentally or emotional, to gain power and control.
- ✦ Stalking: Repeated and unwanted attention by current or former partner that causes fear.

- ✦ Digital Abuse: Posting or sharing sexual pictures without consent, online harassment.

These resources can help provide support, education, and advocacy for Native teens. If you need more information or have any questions, feel free to reach out to Human Services.

Washoe County School District Board of Trustees Appoints James Phoenix, 1st Pyramid Lake Tribal Member to serve on School Board

Press Release from WSCD

James Phoenix was publicly sworn-in to the WSCD Board of Trustees by Arlan D. Melendez, former RSIC Tribal Chairman, on January 28, 2025. Phoenix also took a group photo with Little Buck Harjo, Verna N. Nuno, Arlan D. Melendez, and Alicia Wadsworth.

Reno, NV (January 14, 2025) —At a special meeting of the Washoe County School District (WSCD) Board of Trustees, Trustees appointed James “JJ” Phoenix, the 1st Pyramid Lake Paiute Tribal Member, to represent District C, following the resignation of former trustee Joseph Rodriguez who was elected to serve on the Sparks City Council. Following his selection, Trustee Phoenix was immediately sworn in and took his place on the Board for the first regular public meeting of 2025.

At the regular public meeting following the appointment of Trustee Phoenix, trustees re-elected Trustee Elizabeth “Beth” Smith to serve as president of the Board for 2025.

Trustee Adam Mayberry was elected to serve as vice president of the Board, and Trustee Alex Woodley was elected to serve as clerk. Each of the votes was unanimous.

“I am grateful that my colleagues have selected me to continue leading the Board, as we work together to serve and elevate one another, our students, families, and staff members,” said President Smith. “I am so proud of what we have accomplished as a team over the past two years, with historic pay raises for our staff that enable us to attract and retain high quality team members, impressive academic achievements for our students, and the selection of our outstanding Superintendent Joe Ernst, which I believe has launched an era of stable leadership for our district. I look forward to the year ahead.”

Trustee James “JJ” Phoenix is representing District C, which is comprised of North Valleys and Spanish Springs communities, as well as Natchez and Gerlach. He was unanimously appointed by the Board of Trustees to fill the vacant District C seat. He is the first WSCD Board Member to be an accredited member of the Pyramid Lake Paiute Tribe.

James “JJ” Phoenix grew up and resides in the Reno Sparks area, specifically upon the Pyramid Lake Paiute Indian reservation. He is a public servant, veteran, and parent. He, his children, and family all graduated from Washoe County

Continued from page 26 schools, and he considers Washoe County his home. He is a retired Reno Police Officer and retired Nevada Army National Guard Lieutenant Colonel with more than 25 years of military and police officer experience.

Trustee Phoenix has a strong passion for the community. He has served as Chairman of the Board of Education for the Pyramid Lake Jr./Sr. High School, Chairman of the Pyramid Lake Tribal Council, and has served on the Tribal Council. He is the Co-Chair of the Veterans Committee for the National Congress of American Indians and serves as a member of the Nevada Local Justice Reinvestment, coordinating the council for Washoe County.

Trustee Phoenix looks forward to representing the families in his District. He plans to be a transparent voice to and for the WCSD Board of Trustees to better serve and engage with his constituents. His interests include ensuring equality for all students and families within WCSD and to be a role model in the community who demonstrates a “Can Do” attitude.

Trustee Phoenix welcomes constituent communication and feedback. Please feel free to contact him with your thoughts or concerns at any time.

Contact “JJ” Phoenix by email

at James.Phoenix@washoeschools.net

Chairman Gardipe Quote:

“Congratulations on your appointment Trustee Phoenix,” Chairman Gardipe stated. “We value your expertise and service to our tribal students and families. We know you will advocate to meet WCSD’s 5 goals for all students. Which are a strong start for every child through early education, increasing student voice and advocacy, a sense of safety and belonging, academic growth and achievement and empowering all learners for their future, including career and technical education. Wishing you the best in your new role.”

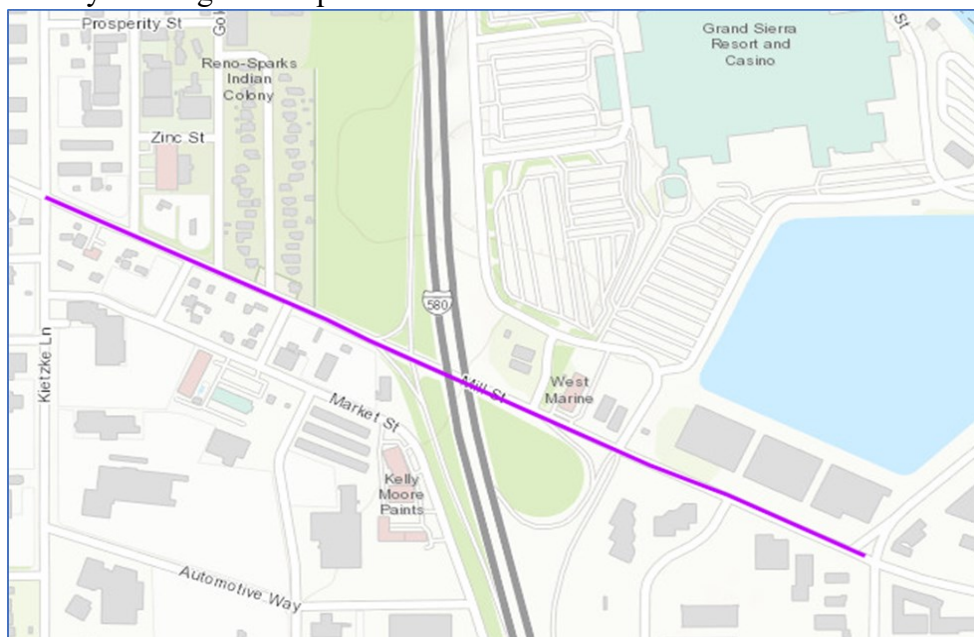

Update on Mill Street Capacity and Safety Project

The Regional Transportation Commission (RTC) has completed final design for the Mill Street Capacity and Safety Project and has advertised the project to the contracting community for bids. Construction is anticipated to begin in April 2025. The project extends from Yori Avenue to Terminal Way, adding roadway capacity, easing congestion, and improving safety for all users along Mill Street. A new signalized intersection will be installed at Golden Lane and Mill Street, providing a new consolidated connection to Market Street. Truckee Meadows Water Authority is performing waterline replacement work between Kietzke Lane and Sunshine Lane in advance of the RTC Project.

RTC and its selected contractor will present additional information including planned construction phasing and traffic impacts at an RSIC community meeting to be held in March. More details about this community meeting will be provided soon.

For any questions concerning the Mill Street project, please contact the RSIC Planning and Community Development Department at 775-785-1363 or planning@rsic.org

98 Colony Road approved for demolition, starting in March 2025

By: Michael Ondelacy, RSIC Director of Commercial Property Management

In March of 2024, the Tribal Council approved the demolition of the old Tribal Administration and Finance building located at 98 Colony Road. This project will be funded by the American Rescue Plan Act (ARPA) and is scheduled to start on February 10th, 2024. The demolition project will be done in two phases: 1) asbestos abatement and 2) building demolition.

Sato Environmental Consultants produced the environmental report which provides the technical specifications for asbestos abatement for demolition. The asbestos abatement will be completed by Advanced Installation prior to Q&D Construction performing the building demolition.

It will take up to four weeks to complete the asbestos abatement. The building demolition will start after post abatement visual and air clearances to verify that designated abatement items have been removed.

The future land use designation for 98 Colony Road is proposed to remain Community Facilities in the draft 2040 Comprehensive Plan. Until a long-term use is identified and approved by Tribal Council, the lot where the old Administrative and Finance building is located will remain vacant. The long-term use may include a new Community Facility building that would include Archives and Records.

Please be cautious during this abatement and demolition project. Avoid approaching and/or crossing work areas. The contractors will provide traffic control, temporary fencing, and other safety mitigations.

Serves as a RSIC Representative Member on the RSIC Executive Health Board.

“Being a member of the Executive Health Board I am looking forward to the development of expansion of quality service and care.”

My name is Darlene Gardipe, I am currently serving as the Vice-Chair of the Executive Health Board. I have seen many changes to the clinic and staff during the time I have been on the board. The health board strives to keep an open line of communication between the community and the staff of the clinic.

As a health board member, we are continuously working toward achieving a better understanding of the policies and procedures that will improve healthcare for our families and community. One of my goals is to help provide input to the clinic director and staff on programs and services and promote community awareness on issues that affect our community.

I am honored to be a member of the EHB and will continue to be an active participant. I am grateful for the opportunities provided as a member to become educated on policies, procedures and other areas. I am very proud of the many achievements and recognition our clinic and staff have received.

A program to close insurance gaps for Native Americans has gone largely unused

BY: JAZMIN OROZCO RODRIGUEZ | KFF HEALTH NEWS - JANUARY 23, 2025

Angie Wilson, director of the Reno-Sparks Tribal Health Center, led an effort in collaboration with Nevada Health Link, the state's health insurance marketplace, to create a tribal sponsorship program that allows tribes to purchase health plans for community members.

A few years before the covid-19 pandemic, Dale Rice lost a toe to infection.

But because he was uninsured at the time, the surgery at a Reno, Nevada, hospital led to years of anguish. He said he owes the hospital more than $20,000 for the procedure and still gets calls from collection agencies.

“It can cause a lot of anxiety,” Rice said. “I can’t give you what I don’t have.”

Rice, 62, was born and has spent his life in Nevada. He said he fell through a gap in the tribal health care system because he lives 1,500 miles from the Prairie Band Potawatomi Nation home area in eastern Kansas, where he’s an enrolled member.

He receives primary care at the Reno-Sparks Indian Colony tribal health clinic in Nevada, but structural barriers in the federal Indian Health Service left him without coverage for specialty care outside of the clinic. Rice might have been eligible for specialty services referred by his tribe’s health system in Kansas, but he lives too far from the tribe’s delivery area to utilize the tribal health program that helps pay for services outside of the IHS.

“I shouldn’t need to move to Kansas City to be fully covered,” Rice said.

A new tribal sponsorship program rolled out last year in Nevada is aimed at getting tribal citizens like Rice covered and protecting them from incurring debt for uninsured care. It allows tribes to buy health insurance through the state’s Affordable Care Act marketplace for people living in their service area, including Native Americans from other tribes.

Tribal leaders and Nevada officials say the sponsorship model increases access to coverage and care for tribal citizens and their families by allowing them to seek medical care outside the tribal health care system.

A few dozen tribes have moved to set up the insurance programs since the ACA authorized them more than a decade ago.

“It’s not widespread,” said Yvonne Myers, an ACA and Medicaid consultant for Citizen Potawatomi Nation Health Services in Oklahoma.

Native American adults are enrolled in Medicaid at higher rates than their white counterparts and have long faced worse health outcomes, higher incidences of chronic disease, and shorter life expectancy. Many rely on the IHS, a division within the Department of Health and Human Services responsible for providing care to Native Americans, but the agency is chronically underfunded.

In Nevada, tribes can sponsor their community members’ health coverage through aggregated billing, a method for paying the premiums for multiple individuals in a single monthly payment to the insurer. Another part of the

The attendance office works with students, families, stakeholders, teachers, administrators, and staff to support good attendance habits. Here are some tools to help arrange an absence or report an absence.

- Starting in the 2022-23 school year, parents can report their student's absence using the Infinite Campus Parent Portal.
- The new tool allows families to report scheduled or unscheduled absences, as well as inform school staff that their students are late or leaving early.
- It sends a notification to attendance staff to approve/deny/request more information.]
- This new tool will reduce the number of calls due to attendance and streamline the absence reporting process.
- Parents are still able to call in to report absences.

Adult family members are responsible for monitoring student attendance and progress using the IC Parent Portal.

WCSD PHONE AWAY & LEARN TODAY new pilot policy for cell phones.

Here is a reminder of the new pilot policy for PHONE AWAY & LEARN TODAY which will start on January 6, 2025.

The primary purpose is to reduce distractions, increase instructional time, enhance student focus, and foster better in-person interactions. Cell phones can often disrupt learning environments, and misuse can negatively impact students' behavior, well-being, and ability to learn. Students are allowed to use their phones before school starts and after school ends, but they must put their phones away during class time. Phones are generally not allowed during lunch or break unless instructed otherwise by school staff for educational purposes or in special circumstances. Schools are supported in enforcing stricter regulations if cell phone use is deemed to disrupt the instructional process or normal school operations. The goal is to encourage more social interaction and physical activity during these times.

Also, another reminder that the RSIC Truancy Officer has new hours – 7:30 am to 4:30 pm is out driving in Reno and Hungry Valley to provide transportation to students who have missed the bus the Truancy Officer can be reached at 775-444-6228.

Don't Believe the Hype: Flushable Wipes Can Damage Plumbing

Are you someone who isn't a fan of regular toilet paper? You wouldn't be the first! Many people want their bathroom experience to be more than basic. We like to think that most people are environmentally conscious and want to do what's best for the ecosystem, and that doesn't include wet wipes.

While flushable wipes can create the more luxurious experience you're looking for, they can seriously damage your plumbing and sewer lines. How? Mr. Rooter Plumbing of Memphis is here to drop some knowledge and protect your pipes from serious issues you might—literally—pay for later.

Why Are Flushable Wipes Labeled “Flushable” If They're Harmful to Plumbing?

That's a great question! A 2016 study by the NYC Department of Environmental Protection found that about 1-4% of flushable wipes are actually flushable. And those that fall outside of the “flushable” category will pass through toilet drains safely. However, the problem comes when they reach sewers.

When you have a good quality flushable wipe, it will dissolve similarly to conventional tissue paper and pose little threat to your plumbing. If you purchase wipes that are a bit more durable, they won't break down easily and could clog sewer lines or find their way into wastewater treatment plants.

Various U.S. cities have sued manufacturers over false advertising of their flushable wipes. In December 2018, Procter & Gamble settled a lawsuit against its brand Charmin Freshmates flushable wipes for falsely marketing that their wipes are safe to flush. As some manufacturers have advertised, these wipes might be safe to flush, but they certainly aren't safe on pipes or sewer lines.

How Flushable Wipes Damage Your Plumbing

They Don't Dissolve like Traditional Toilet Paper

In 2019, researchers at Ryerson's Urban Water Center at Ryerson University in Ontario, Canada, tested 23 flushable wipes. The products were tested for dissolvability, and the results were slightly, yet not slightly, shocking. Only two out of the 23 tested actually dissolved, but only partially. None of the samples completely disintegrated, which tells us that almost any flushable wipe you flush could stay intact all the way to your local water treatment plant. Why? Because they're usually made out of synthetic materials like plastic and polyester, so they're more resilient than toilet paper.

They Clog Sewer Pipes & Drains

Because most wipes don't fully disintegrate, they've been causing problems for mid-south plumbing for years. In 2014, officials reported that flushable wipes were burning through the city's \$13 million environment maintenance budget.

Additionally, if the clog happens in the private sewer line in your home (before it reaches the connection to city underground pipes), you're responsible for the removal and repair costs. This service could be extremely expensive, depending on the extent of the clog and if repairs require invasive measures like digging up a slab or mining drywall.

They Can Cause Waste Backups

If you've had the misfortune of dealing with clogged toilets and wastewater backups, you're likely a frequent flushable wipe user. Some wet wipes may easily pass or dissolve inside toilet drains, but they could be an issue for sewer lines. Most sewer lines rely heavily on gravity to pass water, so any obstructions or disruptions to that natural process could force bacteria-ridden water to back up and reenter your home.

program includes collaboration between Nevada Health Link, the state health insurance marketplace, and tribes to certify staffers at tribal health clinics so they can enroll community members in health plans. Program officials also said they are committed to providing further education to tribes about the accommodations available to them under the ACA.

Health agencies in Washington state and Nevada have helped set up tribal sponsorship programs. Independently, tribes in Alaska, Wisconsin, Idaho, Michigan, Montana, and South Dakota have rolled out individual programs, as well.

It's already making a difference for Native American patients in Nevada, said Angie Wilson, tribal health director for the Reno-Sparks Indian Colony and an enrolled member of the Pit River Tribe in California. Wilson said patients have shown up at her office in tears because they couldn't afford services they needed outside of the tribal clinic and were not eligible for those services to be covered by the IHS Purchased/Referred Care program.

The Reno-Sparks Indian Colony, with more than 1,330 members in 2023, is one of two tribes that participate in Nevada's tribal sponsorship program and aggregated billing. Russell Cook, executive director of Nevada Health Link, said he expects more tribes to come aboard as the agency works to build community trust in tribes often wary of government and corporate entities.

The Fort McDermitt Paiute and Shoshone Tribe, with a reservation that spans Nevada's northwestern border, was the first tribe to pilot the program. There are about 125 households on the reservation.

As of December, 30 tribal members had been enrolled into qualified health plans through Nevada Health Link as part of the tribal sponsorship program, according to state officials, and more than 700 of those enrolled through the state marketplace self-reported American Indian and/or Alaska Native status for last year.

Through sponsorship, tribes may use their federal health care funding to pay the premium costs for each participating person. That, combined with cost-sharing protections in the ACA for American Indian and Alaska Natives enrolled in marketplace health plans, means beneficiaries face very low to no costs to receive care outside of tribal clinics. The American Rescue Plan also expanded eligibility for premium tax credits, making purchasing a health plan more affordable.

Because sponsorship in some tribes isn't limited to enrolled tribal citizens, it can help the whole community, said Jim Roberts, senior executive liaison for intergovernmental affairs with the Alaska Native Tribal Health Consortium and an enrolled member of the Hopi Tribe in Arizona.

Since Alaska first allowed sponsorship in 2013, Roberts said, it has not only increased the access to care for Native Americans but also significantly lowered the costs of care, "which is equally as important, if not for some tribes more important."

In Washington state, where sponsorship in ACA plans began in 2014, 12 of 29 tribes participate.

Cook said the state exchange is seeing interest in the part of the sponsorship program that trains staff at tribal clinics to become certified exchange representatives, a role similar to that of a navigator who helps inform people about health coverage options.

He said the agency is working on a marketing campaign to spread awareness among Native Americans in the state about the sponsorship program. It will include translating resource guides and other materials from the agency into Native languages spoken in the state, such as Northern and Southern Paiute, Washoe, and Western Shoshone.

Cook said he's surprised more states haven't taken the initiative to create sponsorship programs in collaboration with tribes.

Nevada Health Link patterned its approach by looking at Washington state's program, Cook said. Since launching its own program, the Nevada agency has been approached by officials in California who are exploring the option.

But leaders like Wilson are concerned that under the Trump administration the enhanced tax credits for ACA marketplace enrollees implemented during the pandemic will end. The credits are set to expire at the end of this year if Congress doesn't act to extend them. Without the credits, nearly all people enrolled through the marketplace will see steep increases in their premium payments next year.

If tribal citizens or other community members become ineligible for the premium tax credits, that could jeopardize the tribe's financial ability to continue sponsoring health plans, Roberts said.

"Whatever side of the fence people fall on, it does not take away that there's a federal trust responsibility by the United States of America to its First Nations people," Wilson said.

Wilson, who has been an advocate for sponsorship since the ACA was approved in 2010 and led the effort to establish the program in Nevada, said she is happy with the tribal sponsorship program but wishes it would have happened sooner.

"We've lost so much in Indian Country over time," she said. "How many more Indian people could have gotten access to care? How much more of a difference could that have made in sustaining health care for tribes?"
